WASHINGTON STOCK MARKET

Bales - Washington Street Raftway etc.

Brooks - Bales - Bale seriously approached the 35 stock, its operations at that point were watched with a good deal of interest. All offerings were steadily absorbed until there came an end to the 35 stock, and from that point the further advance to 35½ was easily accomplished. Traders were expecting to see a rub at the price of 35, and the ease with which the stock was advanced through that figure yesterday again impressed the bull following. The closing was 35½. This movement appears to be all in the common stock. No corresponding operations are being conducted in the preferred. The same interests that are bulling the common predict that the preferred will sell well above par this year, but they are now confining their activities largely to the common stock. The campaign will probably be extended later to the preferred. It is understood that the Boston crowd
